Inside Out Concert

Featuring Members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra

Today ~ 1:30 PM, Sanctuary
Free, Donations Gratefully Accepted

Ligeti's Six Bagatelles and Hindemith's Kleine Kammermusik

Elizabeth Ostling, flute
Laura Ahlbeck, oboe
Michael Wayne, clarinet
Richard Ranti, bassoon
Eli Epstein, horn and tour guide

Classical music can be a tremendous resource for understanding oneself and others. It's food for our minds, hearts and souls.

Inside Out builds bridges to audiences by showing that a connection with music is not so much about knowing (although it's useful to know the historical and cultural context of a piece), it's more about tapping into the emotional essence and universal human experience that's inherent in every work of art, be it music, dance, theatre, film, or visual art. This innovative interdisciplinary approach helps concertgoers access their memories and activate their imaginations so that they can have more moving, meaningful, and personal experiences.

Support Immigrant Families! Stop the Attacks on Immigrant Communities!

Thursday, December 2nd ~ 7:00 PM, Hunnewell Chapel

What are secure communities? How can we support our immigrant friends? Patty Montes, Executive Director of Centro Presente, will explain Immigration and Customs Enforcement's Secure Communities Program and how it is making immigrant communities less secure. Please come and learn how we can counter the program. This event is sponsored by New Sanctuary Movement.

God, Gender, and Justice: Power Begins with the Body

Sunday, December 5th ~ 12:30 PM, Hunnewell Chapel

Please join Rev. Kim in welcoming Jay Michaelson! Jay is a writer, scholar, and activist whose work addresses the intersections of Judaism, sexuality, spirituality, and law (please see jaymichaelson.net). Jay is also engaged to be married to our own Paul Dakin!

Jay says, "Many people dismiss the so-called 'Christian Right' as a bunch of crazy fanatics, especially when it comes to homosexuality. But what if the Right is more right than it knows? What if liberated sexuality does indeed look like 'the end of civilization' for those of a mythic, fundamentalist bent? On this Sunday afternoon, we'll look at Biblical text, anthropology, and some truly wild Christian Right quotes, to see how ancient and contemporary fears of homosexuality are similar (and different), and how they point to the fundamental Western obsession with imposing order on chaos."

We're very excited to engage with Jay in a conversational romp through his passions and ours. All are welcome!

The Wednesdays: Death in Five Wednesdays

December 8th and 15th ~ 6:00-8:00 PM, Frothingham Library

You're welcome to join Professor Alan Helms and Rev. Kim for as little or as much as you're able for our next Wednesdays, Arlington Street's literary salon, in which we will explore the world's most perennially fascinating, most mysterious, most frightening to many, most cataclysmic to all, most profoundly important subject in the whole of literature: DEATH. There's not a great writer in world literature who hasn't written about it, and we're reading some of the best.

On December 8th, we tackle William Faulkner's As I Lay Dying told by 15 narrators in 59 short chapters, is the story of the death of Addie Bundren and her family's shocking journey through Mississippi as it travels with her corpse to her family's cemetery. We end our journey on December 15th with the first chapter of The Oxford Book of Death, a collection of poems and prose extracts from writers of the past 2,500 years ranging from Homer and Plato to Shakespeare and Woody Allen.
