Dearly beloved,

A late-breaking addition to this Sunday morning: From 9:30 to 10:45, our beloved Ksenia, home for vacation from medical school in PA, will be offering a workshop called Taking Reproductive Health Into Our Own Hands. It will be happening both in person (upstairs in the Clarke Room) and on Zoom. Ksenia will be presenting protocols, side-effects, and verified sources for access and information. After 15 years in public health, Ksenia is now in her clerkship year and president of her local chapter of Medical Students for Choice. Bring your friends and colleagues to come learn how to support people seeking reproductive health care!

And a date for your calendar if you're local to Boston: Next Saturday afternoon, November 12th, Rev. John Gibbons, our Community Minister for Good Trouble, will lead a Troublemakers Tour of Sleepy Hollow Cemetery in Concord! Information is at ASCBoston.org.

This Sunday morning, be sure to wish Director of Music Mark David Buckles a very happy birthday! My sermon is called Spiritual Courage. Our new collaborative pianist, Hyunju Jung, will play music by André Gagnon, Yiruma, and Joe Hisaishi. More musical highlights: Hannah Shanefield (soprano) and Bek Zehr (mezzo) sing Elizabeth Alexander's setting of Søren Kierkegaard's Calm the Tempests of my Heart:

Calm the tempests of my heart, O my G*d.
Be still, O my soul, so that G*d may rest in thee,
Bringing peace that the world can never take away

The Arlington Street Church Choir sings Ben Allaway's My Soul is a River; Mark

David Buckles shares Brandi Carlile's Letter to the Past; and we'll all sing Karisha Longaker's (MaMuse) Oh River and Eric Bogle's Singing the Spirit Home:

Courage, my friend, you do not go alone
We will go with you and sing your spirit home
We will go as one and sing your spirit home

*Faithfully yours, with love,
Kim*

p.s. One last reminder that Rev. Beth and I would love you to join us at Coro Allegro's concert on Sunday afternoon at 3:00! Please visit coroallegro.org to purchase tickets and enter ASCFAMILY for a special discount!
